About the Hutterite Directory

This web application provides contact information for Hutterite colonies and businesses including, but not limited to, phone, fax, switchboard, email, websites and maps.

We just added all the Lehrerleut and Dariusleut colonies to Schmiedeleut collection we previously made available.

This project has become the most comprehensive hutterite contact directory online.

We took special care to make this site work well on smaller screens, a fact you'll appreciate when you're accessing from a mobile device.

It doesn't stop here

The contact information which appears in this directory is being integrated with upcoming versions of Members.

Because this data is presented to such a wide audience, it is important that you report any errors you happen to find while using the service.

"It was a new kind of friendship. Not just two people, but a group. It was a group that laughed at the same jokes, suffered the same setbacks, shared the same moments of triumph, and cared about each other and lived each moment enjoying it more because they were together. Until they became one with each other. The oneness - - that was what was special."

Jean Little in her novel Stand In The Wind...
